SEVILLA

Dear Esteemed Colleagues in Chemical Biology,

It is our great pleasure to extend a warm invitation to you for the upcoming ChemBioVII Meeting, the VII biennial meeting of the Specialized Group in Chemical Biology from the Spanish Royal Society of Chemistry, which will take place from November 18th to 20th, 2024, in the vibrant city of Seville, Spain.

ChemBio VII will bring together world-renowned scientists to share their latest advances in the understanding of bio-mechanisms/structure-activity relationships, novel developments in biophysical techniques for Chemical Biology (e.g. NMR spectroscopy, Single Molecule and Computational Techniques), and advances in our understanding of the factors that promote translation from basic science to clinic use.

The biennial meetings of the RSEQ Chemical Biology Group started in 2012 in Santiago de Compostela and have successfully continued in Bilbao, 2014 (jointly with the 14th Iberian Peptide Meeting), Madrid, 2016 (this time jointly with the RSEQ specialized group on carbohydrates), Barcelona, 2018 (jointly with the 16th Iberian Peptide Meeting), Granada 2020, and Valencia, 2023.

The ChemBioVII Meeting promises to be an enriching and dynamic platform encompassing the latest advancements in diverse branches of Chemical Biology. It will feature a comprehensive program designed to ignite intellectual exchange and foster collaboration among experts, scholars, and enthusiasts in our field. ChemBioVII aims to create an inclusive environment that encourages dialogue, collaboration, and knowledge exchange among attendees from various domains of Chemical Biology. Seville, renowned for its rich history, cultural heritage, and vibrant atmosphere, will serve as an inspiring backdrop for this intellectually stimulating gathering.

We invite you to be an integral part of this event, sharing your expertise, insights, and discoveries with fellow researchers and industry professionals. Your participation will undoubtedly contribute to the success and richness of our discussions.

We look forward to welcoming you to this remarkable scientific congregation.

Warm regards,
